THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
WASHINGTON

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting the NAVY COMMENDATION MEDAL to

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER JOHN S. MC CAIN III
UNITED STATES NAVY

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For meritorious achievement in aerial flight on 18 October 1967 as a pilot in Attack Squadron ONE HUNDRED SIXTY-THREE, embarked in USS ORISKANY (CVA-34). As section leader, Lieutenant Commander McCain participated in a twenty-two-plane strike against the Lac Trai shipyard and repair facility in Haiphong, North Vietnam. Although violent evasive maneuvers were required to avoid enemy surface-to-air missiles and an intense barrage of antiaircraft fire along the flight path to the target, he maintained flight integrity and expertly positioned his section for attack. In the face of heavy enemy fire, he led his section in the attack and placed his bombs directly on target, thereby inflicting major damage to his assigned area. By his aggressiveness and skillful airmanship, Lieutenant Commander McCain contributed substantially to the success of the mission and upheld the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

The Combat Distinguishing Device is authorized.

NAVY COMMENDATION MEDAL (Gold Star in lieu of the Second Award) to

COMMANDER JOHN S. MC CAIN III
UNITED STATES NAVY

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For meritorious service during the period 1968 to 1970 while interned as a Prisoner of War in North Vietnam. During his years of confinement in the Prison Camp Plantation, he served as an example of inspirational leadership and as a source of aggressive motivation to those associated with him. Although crippled from serious and ill-treated injuries, he steadfastly refused a "no commitment" release to freedom offered by his captors. His selfless action served as an example to others and his forthright refusal, by giving emphasis to the insidious nature of such releases, may have prevented a possibly chaotic deterioration in prisoner discipline. His singularly distinctive accomplishments and devotion to duty reflected credit upon himself and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Naval Service and the United States Armed Forces.

The Combat Distinguishing Device is authorized.

CITATION:

For meritorious achievement in aerial flight on 25 October 1967 as a pilot in Attack Squadron ONE HUNDRED SIXTY-THREE, embarked in USS ORISKANY (CVA-34). Lieutenant Commander McCain participated in a mission against the enemy's largest and best defended airfield, Phuc Yen, located eleven miles north of Hanoi, North Vietnam. Encountering intense antiaircraft fire while en route to the target, and a barrage of eight-to-ten surface-to-air missiles at the initial attack position, he evaded the lethal air defenses and carried out a precise attack against his assigned aim point. His accurate ordnance delivery left one aircraft burning and two others severely damaged. Lieutenant Commander McCain's courage and aggressive airmanship in the face of massed enemy air defenses were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service.

For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity while interned as a Prisoner of War in North Vietnam from 27 October to 8 December 1967. His captors, completely ignoring international agreements, subjected him to extreme mental and physical cruelties in an attempt to obtain military information and false confessions for propaganda purposes. Through his resistance to those brutalities, he contributed significantly toward the eventual abandonment of harsh treatment by the North Vietnamese, which was attracting international attention. By his determination, courage, resourcefulness, and devotion to duty, he reflected great credit upon himself and upheld the highest traditions of the Naval Service and the United States Armed Forces.

This 36 year old CDR/USN with approximately 15 years 1 month active duty, was released from a North Vietnamese prison on 3/14/73, after about 5 1/2 years imprisonment, and after medical evaluation at Clark AFB was admitted to this hospital on 3/17/73.

The patient was shot down over Vietnam on 10/26/67. He ejected while in a dive bomb maneuver, receiving multiple severe injuries, including fracture of the upper right humerus, fracture of the upper left humerus, flail action of all extremities, internal derangement, right knee, fracture of right lateral femoral condyle, and internal injuries. After a period of neglect, he had surgery of the right knee, followed by ankylosis. His right arm was in a shoulder spica for 4 months. The left arm was never treated. He received a severe blow of a rifle butt to his left shoulder a few minutes after capture. One year later he fell on his left arm and hurt it again.

From April, 1968 to October, 1969 he had severe dysentery with occasional bloody stools. His lowest weight, in December 1967, was 100 lb. Subsequently he gradually improved and laboriously worked toward improvement of his physical condition.

Physical examination upon admission to this hospital was essentially normal except for the orthopedic findings, reported as follows: "Right upper extremity good. Some deformity upper arm, but excellent shoulder motion, good musculature. Lacks 5% of full extension of elbow, but otherwise elbow motion full. Minimal discomfort. X-rays - Well-healed segmental fracture, right humerus with some angulation. Shoulder joint and elbow OK. Advise no treatment. Right knee - No effusion, some quadriceps atrophy, no tenderness, full extension, 40% flexion. Some instability of medial collateral ligament and possibly anterior cruciate ligament. No tenderness. Walks with limp. X-rays - Joint space good. Evidence of oblique fracture of lateral condyle, but healed in good alignment. No evidence of deformity or bony block. Advise surgical exploration of knee to release contracture or adhesions. When motion good, pes anserinus transfer (Slocum procedure) to stabilize the knee if necessary. Left upper extremity - elbow motion good. Range of motion of shoulder 70-80% of abduction, but almost all scapulo-humeral motion. Painful on extremes of motion. Full internal rotation but can't get shoulder to neutral in external rotation. Flexion to 90°; good extension. Tender over shoulder joint laterally and anteriorly. Has excellent shoulder musculature. X-rays - Head of humerus destroyed. Glenoid OK. Greater tuberosity appears abutting superiorly. Advise: At best, surgical removal of portion of tuberosity to improve motion. Will carefully consider prosthetic replacement. Patient excellent candidate. Needs muscle testing and physiotherapy prior to surgery. Surgical priority, knee first, then shoulder.

Laboratory Data: Routine laboratory studies were normal except for the presence of parasites in the stool. Enterobius vermicularis, Trichuris trichiura, and Ascaris lumbricoides. Chest X-ray and ECG were normal.

Hospital Course: The patient was treated with physiotherapy, supportive and symptomatic measures, and Mintezol for parasites. He remained ambulatory and on a regular diet.

On 5/16/73 exploration of the right knee joint was performed, with lysis of adhesions and partial lateral meniscectomy. On 5/17/73 the knee was manipulated under general anesthesia. On 5/30/73 closed manipulation was again performed. 75° of flexion obtained.

The subsequent course was one of gradual improvement. Physiotherapy was given with a view to obtaining maximum flexion of 75°. Actually the patient has already

Opinion: Fit for full duty, Service Group III.

Recommendation: Return to duty.
